

NUMECENT MAKES COMPARABLY'S 2018 LIST OF BEST PLACES TO WORK

Company Recognized as one of the '2018 Best Leadership Teams' Among Small to Mid-Sized Businesses by Region in the United States

June 7, 2018 – Irvine, Calif. – Numecent, Inc. has been included in Comparably's 2018 list of the Best Places to Work by Region in the United States. Honorees consist of the companies that had the highest scores, as rated by their employees on Comparably.com. The rankings are separated by the following regions; Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco, Boston, Chicago, Seattle, Salt Lake City and Washington DC. Numecent, Inc. was ranked in the top 15 for small to medium businesses in the Los Angeles region.

Comparably also recognized Numecent's co-founder and CEO, Arthur S. Hitomi, as one of the 2018 Best CEOs for Diversity in the United States in the small-to-midsize company category, as reported in USA Today.

"It's a great honor to be recognized by Comparably as a 2018 Best Leadership Team among small and mid-sized businesses in the United States. "Our employees are some of the best and brightest in the industry, and we couldn't have achieved this recognition without their dedication to the development of our Cloudpaging technology," said Arthur S. Hitomi, co-founder and CEO. "The positive impact that our Cloudpaging technology has on the transition of enterprise software to a Windows® 10 environment is attributed to the drive of our employees coupled with the inspiration of our leadership team. Together, we are helping enterprises reduce downtime and alleviate the pressures and costs involved with developing entirely new enterprise platforms. We are honored to be recognized alongside the other outstanding companies in the Comparably 2018 Best Places to Work Awards."

"In today's highly complex business environment, the job of a senior management leader is more challenging than ever," said Jason Nazar, Comparably CEO. "No matter the industry, executives are being asked to navigate through increasing competition and rapidly advancing technology. Comparably's Best Leadership awards honors those who are stellar at what they do in business while creating a culture that delivers results."
